Paul Flueck Weeps in Court as She Identifies Alleged Kelley Kidnaper as Robber Who Killed Her Grocer-Husband.

"I'LL NEVER FORGET THAT PALE FACE"

Daughter Confirms Statement-Defense Attorney Lacy Fails to Shake Either of Them in Cross-Examination.

In a dramatic courtroom scene before Circuit Judge Mulloy at Clayton today, Bart Davit, charged with kidnaping Dr. Isaac D. Kel-ley for ransom, also was identified as the slayer of Paul Flueck, Ma-plewood grocer, in a holdup on Feb. 20, 1032 20, 1932.

Pallid from confinement in the county jail since last February, Davit stared at the murdered man's widow and swallowed repeatedly as she stood, weeping, on the witness stand, pointed at him and cried out, "that's the man—the man with the pale face that's looking at me now. I'll never forget that pale face and those stern blue eyes!"

As she concluded her testimony the widow became inarticulate with weeping and a recess was declared

Following Mra Blaugh: the mass stand her daught Davidson, also identified David as the slayer of the grocer.

Bail Previously Refused.

Mrs. Flueck, who resides at 7535 Weaver avenue, Maplewood, was the State's first witness in a hearing on an application filed by Davit for release on wond in the Kelley and Flueck cases. A similar plea in the Kelley case only, was refused during the early part of the summer by Circuit Judge McElhinney.

When the case was called this morning there was a short wait while Davit was brought to the courtroom from the jail. As he took his seat, neatly clad in a blue suit with white shirt and light blue tile, Mrs. Flueck ook the witness stand.

daughter, Mrs. Fred David son of the Weaver avenue address cycle patrolman, on cross-examina-tion, disclosed that she recognized Davit's photograph in a newspaper and arranged to go over to Clayto and look at him.

"As soon as I saw his picture in the paper I called my husband," she said "I just saw a picture of the man that killed Daddy,' I said. He came home and I told him all about it. He said they were busy on the kidnaping case at Clayton and I would just confuse it, and told me to wait for a while. We told Mr. J board is compelled to conclude that C. Depositions of Sheriff and Deputy

Taking of depositions of State witnesses by the defense in the Kelley case continued yesterday, with Chief Deputy Sheriff Willmann and Sheriff Deuser as the principal wit-mann had been on the preceding day, about the statement made by John C. Johnson, one of the six indicted in the kidnaping who con-fessed himself an aid of the kidreaded for Tacoma, Wash, but it son, a Negro, admitted Dr. Kelley was held prisoner on his St. Charles ready to block any move to land was held prisoner on his St. Charles County farm and named Bart Davit, Angelo Rosegrant and Felix McDonald, co-defendants, as among the physician's captors. He was murdered on May 12 by a machine-gunner while at liberty on bond.

The Sheriff gave the same account of the manner in which Johnson came to make his confession as Willmann had given. Fol-lowing his arrest, he testified, Johnson was questioned but said he was afraid to discuss the case. After he had been questioned three or four times he said he was ready to make a statement, which was taken down, transcribed on a typewriter and signed by him. Sheriff Deuser also was ques tioned about the interrogation of Tom Galonos, St. Charles restauran proprietor, at the County jail dur ing this summer. Defense co asked him particularly whether had seen Davit, McDonald or Rose grant in his restaurant with Mrs. Neilie Tipton Muench, 4736 West-minster place, another defendant, who is at liberty on $25,000 bond. Chief Deputy Willmann, recalled as a witness yesterday, was questioned chiefly about an iron cage installed in the jall several years the witness stand again today to complete her story of the murder of Harry Wright, crippled odd jobs man, for which the State seeks to send her former friend, Mrs. Eva Coo, to the electric chair.

As star witness for the prosecu tion, she has testified that Mrs. Coo, operator of a roadhouse at the foot of Crumhorn Mountain, formed and orn Mountain, formed and discarded half a dozen murder plans before hitting on one that satisfied

Mrs. Clift, 27 years old, is also charged with murder, but the State has promised to let her plead guilty of second degree murder in ex-change for her story of "what really happened" the night of June 14.

Four hundred persons stood in the rain outside the Courthouse this morning waiting for the doors to be opened. Some had been waiting since shortly after 5 o'clock. Mrs. Clift, continuing her testimony to-day, identified a 3½-pound mallet as resembling "the one Eva hit Harry Wright with" the night he

Cross-Examination of En-Who gineer Gas Company Appraisal Completed at Hearing.

By the Jefferson City Corresponder of the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 24.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 24.—
Hearings on the revaluation of the Laclede Gas Light Co. of St. Louis, to determine the fair valuation of the company's gas property for ratemaking purposes in St. Louis, which have been in progress this week before the Missouri Public Service Commission, were adjourned yesterday until Monday.

Cross-examination of A. J. Luick of Chicago, consulting engineer em-

Cross-examination of A. J. Luick of Chicago, consulting engineer employed by the company to make an appraisal of its property, on Luick's finding that the gas property had a valuation of $55,080,694, as of Aug. 31, 1933, on the basis of reproduction new at present prices, less depreciation, was completed yesterday by attorneys for the City of St. Louis

The cross-examination of Luick developed that under his theory that the company was entitled to a re-turn of 8 per cent on the approxi-mate valuation of $55,000,000, the holders of the $10,700,000 of co stock would receive dividends of of the stock. In recent stock market transactions this stock, with a par value of $100 a share, sold at

The stock is controlled by the Utilities Power & Light Corporation of Chicago, parent holding company of the Laclede Gas Light Co.

Would Mean Higher Rates.

Associate City Counselor Forrest
G. Ferris Jr. of St. Louis developed that this dividend rate would be produced, under such a theory, without considering about $450,000 without considering about $450,000 in non-operating revenue, derived from electric properties leased to the Laclede Power & Light Co., an affiliated company, part of which property is covered by Laclede Gas securities. Ferris declared a gas rate increase of 25 per cent would be necessary to produce an 8 per cent return on a $55,000,000 valuation.

Luick testified that fixed charges for interest on the Laclede com-pany's $33,000,000 in outstanding bonds, $3,000,000 in short-term notes and $2,500,000 in preferred stock, plus amortization expense, would to-tal $2,152,191. On the basis of an 8 per cent return on a $55,000,000 valuation, $2,247,809 would be left for the holders of the $10,700,000 in Luick said he did not consider the circumstances. Under further questioning by company attorneys he said there had been no increase in the common stock outstanding since about 1911 or 1912, but that several millions of dollars had been added to the property since then. He said that under the circumstances, the book value of the com mon stock, or the equity it represented in the property, was the proper basis to consider in giving effect to dividends, rather than the par value of the stock. No figures were presented on the book value of the common stock.

Nation Happy Over Discovery and Workers Are Drilling For Other Wells.

CASABLANCA, Morocco, Aug. 24. France's 70-year dream of findng oil on her own land has come true. A well has been brought in between Fez and Rabat, Morocco, producing 700 barrels a day, a run of many European wells. Active drilling is going on in nearby fields with expectation that nearby fields with expectation that more productive wells will be working soon. But the bare discovery of oil in Morocco, after many years of geological work, has brought joy to France.

While French experts do not expect Moroccan production to supply the French market, they hope to make Morocco self-sufficient. The North African protectorate imports 140,000 tons of manufactured petroleum products each year, with petroleum products each year, with a value of $9,000,000. They also hope to be able to supply the neighboring colony of Tunis.

News of the discovery of Tselfat, the new well, spread through Morocco as quickly as the fire which broke out at first in the well itself.

B. R. P. M. will be to us in the future," said one paper referring to the initials by which the bureau of mineral research is known.

"We've got as good a climate as California," said another in a front page editorial, "and now we've got oil, too, so California has nothing on us."

France also expects Moroccan oil to supply the fleet in event of war. A comparatively short tanker haul across the Mediterranean would take oil to Toulon, the big naval

In 1895, a French engineer began In 1895, a French engineer began the search for petroleum deposits in Morocco. For several centuries the natives had used crude oil soummed from water pools for their lamps. The engineer knew there must be deposits under the sands, but it took until this year to sink a successful shaft.

VANDALS' MISSILES NUMBERED scribed Bricks Tossed Through Milwaukee Grocery Windows.

By the Associated Press.
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 24. Bricks bearing labels and numbers are being hurled from automobiles through windows of grocery stores here. One inscribed "Scab Brick here. One inscribed "Scab Brick No. 2" shattered a pane in Paul Krause's store. "Scab Brick No. 3" went to Louis Zbieranek. "Scab Brick No. 1" has not yet appeared. Authorities believe the brick tossing is part of a campaign of intimidation to stop grocers from selling bread made by bakeries where strikes are in progress.

VEGETABLE GROWERS

They Protest Against Reduction of Tariff on Produce From Cuba.

By the Associated Press.

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 24. — A protest against any reduction in tariffs on winter vegetables imported by the United States from Cuba was sent to President Roosevelt today by R. F. Sams of Clarkston, Ga., president of the Vegetable Growers' Association of America.

Any reduction in the tariff on Cuban vegetables would "ruin financially a major portion of the vegetable growers in the United States," the telegram said. "We demand a 4½ cent per pound tariff on tomatioes. The NRA has increased the cost of production, which necessi-cost of production, which necessi-tates an increased duty." The vegetable growers' conven-tion closed here yesterday. The association draws its membership from both the United States and

The growers adopted resolutions yesterday condemning NRA codes and the Agriculture Adjustment Act of the United States.

One resolution protested against the NRA codes "which have increased cost of things we buy for the conduct of our business from 15 to 60 per cent and in some cases over 100 per cent without increasing the buying power and returns pro-portionately."

Another resolution indicated op-position to Government control of position to Government control of production and marketing of vege-tables and it favored "repeal of the Agricultural Adjustment Act and the development of co-operative ef-forts by growers for regulation from within of their own business."

Objection also was raised to attracting workers from productive employment to Government pay-rolls. "This policy is destroying the morale of many laborers," a resolution stated.

R. F. Sams, president, said: "I think for example that this business of plowing up cotton in the South while kids are going around in sacks is poor statesmanship," he continued. "You can't imagine the natives over in Africa being so foolish as to plow under their stuff. I believe Secretary Wallace is sincere and President Roosevelt, too, but they want our opinion and we should not hesitate to tell them

A resolution approved by the con-vention declared marketing agree-ments destroyed their objectives and "are not feasible and are unsound in government coercion of minority growers."

California Governor Gives Time for Additional Evidence.

Lee Dwight Murphy, sentenced to hang at San Quentin prison today hang at San Quentin prison today for killing his wife, Nellies Buttles Murphy, was reprieved by Acting Gov. Frank Merriam yesterday. The stay expires Nov. 9: Gov. Merriam said he granted the reprieve because defense attorneys wanted to present additional evidence.

Murphy was convicted of killing his bride of seven days in 1928 by beating her with a belt buckle and than kicking her in the abdomen. Murphy fled to Pittsburgh, where he remarried and lived for seven years before he was captured and brought back here for trial.

a delicate operation to save him from imbecility.

If 33-year-old Gray E. McNeer survives the operation, he must face a murder charge in the shooting of his wife, Betty, last June 29.

The operation to which Mrs. McNeer gave her consent in Superior Court was to remove a bullet fired from a pistol into her son's brain. If McNeer could live with the bullet in his brain, said S. S. Hahn, his attorney, he would be an imbullet in his brain, said S. S. Hann-his attorney, he would be an im-becile. The bullet destroyed one eye, paralyzed McNeer and left him barely able to talk. He says his wife fired both shots. The State accuses him of firing the pistol.

Faced with the certainty of heavy Allied attacks, the German High Command decided that the German lines in the west were too long. Douaumont had taught them their lesson. Now, despite the shock which they knew full well their move would inflict upon the waver-ing front-behind-the-front, they ing front-behind-the-front, pulled back the forces guarding the German lines, on a vital part of the western front, to a new defensive line of enormous strength a veritable masterpiece of concrete and armor, considerably in the rear of the old German position.

This area, lying between the old and new German positions, was completely laid waste by the retreating Germans. Advancing cautiously, in the wake of the vanished enemy, the Allies found a scene of utter ruin; uprooted orchards, torn fields, obliterated roads, ards, torn fields, obliterated roads, and burned farm-houses, where not a human being remained, a land so uncanny in its desolation as to resemble those fantastic wastes revealed by a telescope pointed at the moon.

Before the new German position the Allied troops came to a halt, as Hindenburg had foreseen. Much time must elapse before artillery and all its concomitant paraphernalia, in strength sufficient for making a dent in the Siegfried Stellung could be hauled over the hard-pressed soldiers were to have a respite.

But elsewhere on the western front British and French struck hard. Their onslaughts taxed almost to breaking-point the new defensive system which the two apostles of the offensive had reluctantly evolved to meet their problems on land, while (as they fervently hoped) the U-boats were winning the war for them on the sea.

Around Arras, the British at-tacked furiously. Only by the most strenuous effort and at enormous cost (which he was ill-equipped to pay) could Hindenburg keep his foes from breaking through.

Indeed, at one juncture, they actually smashed the lines before them, hacked their way to open country, placed themselves in a position to inflict on their enemies a wound that might be mortal. At Hindenburg's headquarters staff officers were white with apprehension; it was that crucial day at Tannenberg over again, when many a coadjutor of the grante-faced old commander had felt the chill of oncoming disaster.

FLYING PROFESSOR TO LEAVE TOMORROW FOR GREENLAND

Dr. Richard U. Light of Yale and B. F. Wilson Flew to Cart-wright, N. F., Wednesday. By the Associated Press.

CARTWRIGHT, N. F., Aug. 24.— Dr. Richard Upjohn Light, professor of surgery at Yale University, and Robert French Wilson of New Rochelle, N. Y., who surprised their friends in the United States Wednesday by an unexpected flight to Cartwright from Nova Scotia, today said they would take off for Greenland tomorrow.

Dr. Light acted as pilot of the American plane and his companion acted as radio operator on their flight here from Sydney, N. S. Wilson is a 1934 electrical engineering graduate of the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale.

The two men did not disclose whether their flight had Greenland, only, as its objective, or a round-the-world trip, which has been rumored as their goal. When the men set out from New Haven it was understood that they were only going for a pleasure jaunt.

Dispute Between Factions in Greek Catholic Congregation Taken to Court Again

The controversy between Ruthe-nian and Ukranian members of St. Mary's Assumption Ruthenian Greek Catholic Church was taken to the courts again today with the filing of an injunction suit to prevent the Rev. Joseph Haniak from acting as pastor and president of the board of trustees.

The petition also asks that other officers of the church be restrained and that they be enjoined from changing th ename of the church from Ruthenian to Ukranian.

Older members of the church, descendants of those who lived in the Carpathian Mountains, now Ruthenia, a province of Czecho-Slokavia, appeared in court last February and successfully resisted the efforts of the Rev. Haniak and some members the Rev. Hanlak and some members of the congregation to change the name of the church.

"Ukranian" should be substituted for "Ruthenian," the pastor said at that time because it would be more descriptive of most of the present members whose ancestors came from the district across the mountains to the east of Ruthenia, a ragion now one of the Soviet rea region now one of the Soviet re

His arrest at Mineola, N. Y. tence for disorderly conduct, climaxed an extensive investigation

The extortion note was sent through the mails to Fox at his home, Fox Hall, Woodmere, N. Y., on April 1. Fox immediately noti-fied the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice and expert operatives were assigned to the

The note was signed "Dillinger's Lieutenant," but authorities said they doubted Monier actually had any connection with the dead Indiana desperado's gang.

Fay declined to state the exact method used to find Monier, but it was learned authoritatively the operatives succeeded in tracing him through samples of his hand-writing that had been analyzed by Federal experts.

Fox and his two daughters, Mona Fox and Mrs. Belle Schwartz, were under constant guard.

Monier, who was born in France, but is a naturalized citizen, lived at Hewlett, N. Y., near the Fox estate. After arraignment before United States Commissioner Martin Epstein he was removed to the Federal House of Detention in Manhattan.

Fox, who made a large fortune in the motion picture business, sold out his holdings to a syndicate headed by Harley Clarke some years ago and was paid $7,000,000

DIZZY DEAN TO FACE GIANTS IN SECOND GAME OF SERIES

Joe Moore's Home Run Another Invasion Fails-American Five Loses in London Newsom Blanks Mack's With Two Out in 9th, Defeats Paul Dean, 5-3

By J. Roy Stockton.

Bill Terry and his Giants took a long stride toward eliminating the Cardinals as pennant contenders yesterday afternoon when they rallied like champions to defeat the Redbirds in the first game of a series of three, but second place remains in easy striking distance. and Jerome Herman Dean will be carrying a heavy responsibility when he faces the world champions this afternoon,

Dizzy will be making his first ap-pearance on the hill since a combination of circumstances caused him to miss a train that took the him to miss a train that took the other Cardinais to Detroit for an exhibition game with the Tigers Aug. 13, and observers will be watching to see if his row with Frankie Frisch and the club had any deleterious effect on Jerome Herman's morals or pitching arm.

Hal Schumacher is due to work for the world champions, but he has been handicapped for some time by a wrenched muscle in his side and Bill Terry may send Le-side and Bill Terry may send Le-roy/Parmelee to the hill. In either case, Dean will have a battle on his hands. Schumacher throws an over-handed "sinker" that is ex-tremely difficult to hit to distant arts of a ball park, and Parmelee s almost as troublesome. He has ot been at his best form this year, having undergone an appendix op-eration, but he still retains much of his speed and throws a bone-breaking fast ball that makes batbreaking fast ball that makes bat-ters very uncomfortable at the Bavis c Fullis cf

Joe Moore is the New York hero today. The Giants had a six-game lead when they appeared here for the first game of the series, but they are still slapping Joe on the back with an enthusiasm that could not be warmer if yesterday's victory had been a stepping stone to their first grasp on first place.

Joe had a large afternoon. He drove in four runs and it was his home run in the ninth inning with two out and two on base that turned an impending defeat into a victory that went a long way to-ward clinching the 1934 champion-

It was a discouraging defeat for the Cardinals. They made two base running mistakes in the first five and quickly squeiched the Cardinal innings, but despite their blunders they were leading the world cham-pions, 3 to 0, when the Giants went to bat in the sixth inning.

Then Medwick and Durocher interfered with each other when Verges hit a pop fly to left field and the ball fell safe for a double. Moore quickly turned the break into a run, sending a single to left that scored Vergez.

Danning Hits a Homer.

Paul Dean was a bit eareless pitching to Danning in the seventh and the Giant catcher hit a home run into the left field bleachers,

Paul protected his slender addefensive game through the reventage in the eighth, retiring Ott mainder of the season, with George wantage in the eighth, retiring Ott and Jackson after Durocher's error Watkins playing center field most of the time. George turned in a spectacular play to make Terry's fighting warriors went ahead. One was out when Danning singled to right, and Dean seemed to be on his way out of danger when ed to Durocher for the Paul Dean held his hands on his structed Rainbow, romped around ted for Luque and looped a Texas head and looked at the ground for the answer when Joe Moore hit that ninth inning homer. Paul Dean held his hands on his structed Rainbow, romped around a 30-mile course to beat the Vanderbilt aspirant by more than six ted for Luque and looped a rexample the answer when Joe Moore in the league single to center and Joe that ninth inning homer. Paul Moore won the game with a line would have given another $500 of drive home run that skidded over the pavilion roof.

How Pennants Are Won. It was a convincing demonstra-tion of the Giants' championship caliber. It was a victory that re-called the great days of 1930 and 1931 when the Cardinals were win-ning pennants and when many an a triumph by Cardinal bats.

Moore's four-bagger prevented
Paul Dean from winning his fourteenth victory of the year and also saved Carl Hubbell from his fourteenth victory of the year and also saved Carl Hubbell from his foursaved Carl Hubbell from his fourth defeat of the season at the hands of the Radhirds defeat of the season at the hands of the Redbirds.

Hubbell was making his sixth appearance in the Giants' last 12 games, and he plainly showed the effects of overwork. But even though the brilliant left-hander was off form, the Cardinals had difficulty in scoring while he was on the hill. In the second inning Davis singled, with two out, and continued to second on Moore's fumble. tinued to second on Moore's fumble.
Fullis followed with a single that run.

Unfortunately, daring base running took a run away from the Redbirds in the fourth. Collins opened the inning with a double to right, but tried to stretch it into a triple and was out when Critz took the strong-armed Ott's throw and relayed to Vergez at third. Davis followed with a home run into the left field seats.

Costly Base Running.

Costly Base Running.

In the fifth, Paul Dean led with a single, and when Whitehead bunted, Hubbell threw late to second and ed, Hubbell threw late to second and both runners were safe. However, Faul expected Rothrock to bunt, and when Hubbell threw a pitch inside, moving Rothrock away from the plate, Dean had too long lead off second. He tried to reach third when Danning threw to second, but was retired on Jackson's relay to Vergez. Rothrock then singled to center, moving Whitehead to third, and Burgess scored after Frisch's Exciting action in the basketball game between France and America, in a game played in the White Stadium, London, recently. The American team was the championship Oklahoma City Cardinals, who were beaten 34 to 23, when the official (in the background) continually called fouls on them in French, which they could not understand.

How About It, Old Timer?

HARD-RIDING cyclists of the days when bicycles were as numerous as autos are today, read time averages made by Louis Droz, Eugene Gotsch, Velmo Chappius and other local riders last Wednesday. Riding in the 252-mile sector

When the bicycle craze was at its height even professionals did not often break two minutes on a race track, with bikes built especially for racing. In fact, the amateur unpaced mile road record today still stands at 2:02, or something less than 30 miles an hour.

From New York to Effingham the 861 miles were covered at the comparatively slow rate of 16.7 miles per hour. The average time from New York to St. Louis was 17. m. p. h. The relays east of Effingham averaged eight miles an hour less than the St. Louis contingent and the st.

It is doubtful if any group of riders at any point of the trans-continental race will surpass the 252 miles in 8 hours 50 minutes made by the Mound City riders.

How They Did It. NE reason why the Eastern riders made such slow time," observed a local bicycle official who followed the relays "was that they used balloos tires which are made for encountered rain.

"Perhaps our boys were a lit-tle foxier. We came through in daylight when traffic from Effingham was heaviest. Whenever our riders could they tailed behind an automobile and were dragged along by the suction so that they made much faster time and saved their strength. In fact the truck with the relief men had a hard time keeping up with the riders in order to change riders.

"There were times when our riders were being carried at from level and even faster than that "It is a fact that an experienced rider can make faster time on a busy highway, through tailing autos, than he can by riding or a road free from traffic." That may be true. It is also lege football would be improved if the rule makers gave some attention to putting the FOOT back in the competition.

Jimmy, whose toe has on occasions booted four or even more drop kicks in the same game, and from eye-opening distances, views with some doubt the importance given to throwing the ball as compared with kicking it.

"They've over balanced the game in favor of the forward pass," Jimmy observed. "The pass is a fine play but it is being overdone at the expense of the thrilling and highly difficult goal from the field.

"In order to increase interest in drop and place goal-kicking, I suggest a change or two in scoring. By increasing the value of a field goal the inclination to employ it will be increased.

"In order to equalize the values in kicking goals from the field they could use a zone scoring system whereby a field goals kicked from within the 20-yard line would be scored as 3 points; field goals from anywhere between the 20 and 35 yard lines might count as 4 points; and beyond that 5 points."

Whether this suggestion is the answer to Jimmy's prayer, certainly the great collage game of football ought to have something more of the foot in it than puni-

Of the Pest-Dispatch Sport Staff, PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—By his suspension of Rollie Hemsley, one of the stars if any of the 1934 Browns, Manager Rogers Hornsby has served notice that, whether the club finishes fifth, sixth, seventh or last, there's going to be discipline. Which brings up the question as to what type of manager Hornsby is. Is he an "easy

The best answer is that the Rajah has only two rules of discipline. One is "be in bed at midnight" and the other, "be in condition to give your best in every ball game." Now there is the entire code and surely there have been more difficult sets of rules to obey.

Hornsby, personally, always has been fond of Hemsley. He was 'he first player he obtained for the Browns after he had assumed management. Time after time, not only on this trip but on others this season, he has forgiven certain acts which, under a "driver" might have resulted in heavy fines and periods of suspension for the—shall we say "trisky"—catcher. The last prank, however, was too much and today Hemsley is on his way home facing probable suspension for the rest of the season.

There is an amendment, however, the season.

There is an amendment, however, to the published story of the trouble. According to Hemsley, he went out Wednesday night and hired a car. In it he went to a taproom and there became involved in an argument with a sailor. Objecting to the sailor's remarks, Hemsley flattened the gob and then tried to get away.

But a policeman arrived and found that Hemsley had no driver's license. Hemsley says he didn't hit the officer and was arrested only because he had no license. So, it wasn't the police department he was fighting; it was the navy. Of course, the fact remains that Hemsley started out on his nocturnel adley started out on his nocturnal adventure at the time he was supposed to go to bed. That, it seems, was his offense, this time. His suspension, though, was only the culmination of several breaches of discipline.

Newsom Blanks Athletics.

To get back to more pleasant themes, Buck Newsom yesterday showed the form that justified his being drafted from the Coast League last winter. Buck had pitched and lost in four cities on this trip and in none of them had he shown very much. But sixth history are stated and Newsom rethe show. The Browns made three runs and he scored two of them; they made 10 hits and Buck bagged three of them, two singles and a double. As he drew a pass his last time up, he got on every time. That was his part on the offense. On the defense, he allowed only six hits, no runs, walked only two men, one intentionally, and struck out 10. Only once was he in any trou-

And the one dime he was in a jam, he showed at his very best. It was in the sixth inning. With one down, Williams singled for the week of rest. He made one hit in third hit off Newsom. Johnson followed with a safe drive to right the first-string catcher, had the course matches of the national course matches of t and Williams dashed to third John son taking second on Campbell's poor return. The Browns were lead-ing, 2 to 0, at the time and a hit meant a tie at least. Jimmy Foxx was up. Perhaps 99 managers out of 100 would have ordered the dan gerous Foxx passed as first base was open. Hornsby was the 100th pilot. He knew Newsom was in fine form and he ordered Buck to "pitch" to the Philadelphia slugger. Buck bore down and Foxx fouled to Burns. He followed this up by making Higgins, a sweet hitter, foul out to Grubs. In the last three innings only one of the Mackmen reached first and he got

Rules Governing Babe Ruth's . All-America Team Competition

Babe Ruth is not eligible. He will not pick himself.

Flayers must be selected on the basis of their play in the 1934 season only. Performances of previous years do not count.

A player may be placed in a position other than the one he regularly occupies, provided he has played such position in one or more

The competition is open to everyone, except employed the post-Dispatch and their families.

Entries will close Aug. 31 at midnight, and letters bearing postmark up to that time will be considered eligible.

Babe Ruth will list his selections in the order in which he thinks they should go to the plate, and tentrants must do likewise.

An explanatory letter of not more than 250 words must accompany each entry and will be passed upon by the judges. This is as important as selecting the players. Babe himself will write an explanation of his choices. In event of a tie, excellence of the compositions would determine the winner. (Write on one side of the paper only and make your selections on a separate sheet.)

Ten players win take up the players, one for each position. Only one team may be submitted by each eontestant.

No corrections will be accepted once an entry has been received and filed.

al Report Filed on Estate Mrs. T. E. Perley, in Court 15 Years.

A final report on the estate of Mrs. T. E. Perley, former resident of Alton, who died in Germany in 1916, was filed in Madison County Probate Court at Edwardsville yes-terday.

The estate, consisting largely of stocks and bonds, was the object of itigation for 15 years, being settled two years ago with an agreement that Count Otto von Koenigsmarck of Germany, husband of Mrs. Perley's daughter whose death followed that of her mother, should receive three-fourths and seven contesting relatives, one-fourth. Once valued at more than $25,000 the estate has dwindled to $16,-667.79 and expenses of $7433 have further reduced it to $9244. The relatives who contested Count von Koenigsmarck's claim included Koenigsmarck's claim included Charles Short and Mrs. Kate Ray of East St. Louis.

F OR the reason that the writer T been a reader and patron of the Post-Dispatch for more than 40 years, and admires the Post-Dispatch platform, I eel that I have a right to protest at this time against the many articles that appear from time to time that are seem ngly calculated to mislead the pecting public with reference to the inegrity of Senator Long of Louisiana. Huey P. Long's public record and achievements for the benefit of the common people are outstanding and of pub-lic record. None of the numerous investigations of his activities instigated by his political enemies have been able to register against Senator Long's fidelity to his constituents. I could enumerate his activities in voting for measures in the Senate benefiting the people that would outrank the votes of any other Senator. The answer to your editorial entitled "Long in Louisiana" is that as long as

BEHIND THE TAX BURDEN.

It does no good to blink the facts. The relief load piles up to staggering size. Three or four items tell the story of what is happening throughout the country.

One out of every four persons in Arkansas, with population of 1,854,000, is receiving or has applied for direct relief from the Federal Government. In New York City, more than 1,000,000 persons, or one out of seven of the population, received relief last month. Reaching out frantically for new sources of revenue, the harassed Mayor LaGuardia proposes an increase in the tax on gross business receipts, and even, such are the straits to which the city has been reduced, a municipal lottery.

But we need not go to New York or Arkansas for examples of the country's plight. In Missouri, Gov. Park recommends that the State sales tax, adopted as an emergency measure to raise funds for relief, be doubled or more than doubled and the period of its collection extended for one year or two years from the present expiration date, Dec. 1, 1935.

Right here at home, in St. Louis, relief costs are mounting fast toward $1,000,000 s month. To be ex act, the total last month was $933,950, of which the city contributed $151,000 and the State and Federal governments the balance. Nearly one-seventh of the city's population, or about the same percentage as in New York City, are on the relief rolls. The relief problem in the city has never been so critical.

St. Louis city officials grope desperately for ways of coping with a condition brought about very largely by the relief burden. Special taxes of various kinds plant and material, but, in coded indus-tries, it is not clear how he can figure labor under the head of costs.

by the relief burden. Special taxes of various kinds have been approved by the Mayor's bi-partisan com-mittee of Aldermen, but the total estimated yield, at mittee of Aldermen, but the total estimated yield, at the most optimistic calculations, is not within gunshot of the city's requirements. Hence the proposal. yet to be acted upon by the committee, of a general city sales tax, or, as an alternative, a tax on gross incomes earned in the city.

The prospect of additional taxation, of whatever sort, is not pleasing. It is, however, a prospect that is certain to be translated into reality. Relief measures must be continued; the city's credit must be preserved. The taxpayer can only grin and bear the pressure with what fortitude and grace he can mus-

It does no good, as we said, to ignore the facts. There are 10,000,000 unemployed in this country. On the relief rolls are more than 16,000,000. Until the people can be given jobs, through the revival of private business enterprise, the pressure will continue -and will grow.

MAKING RAIN MEDICINE.

Are the Arapaho sun gods more efficient deities than the Chevenne rain gods? Or is the Arapaho system of supplication more productive of results than the Chevenne? These are likely to be the topics of an Oklahoma inter-tribal debate, since the drouth continued after the Cheyenne rain dance, while, two has raised a crop of wheat from grains found in a weeks later, gully-washers succeeded the Arapaho sun dance.

These ancient ceremonials of the red man have a long record of delivering the goods. It is based largely, however, on the marveling acclaim that follows success, and the absence of publicity when the gods are deaf. The medicine men are canny, too, about choosing the time to go into their dance. Not United States think it would be better to until the situation grows critical do they feel the need of calling a special session for beseeching divine assistance, which is about the time nature usu-Let us see what one of the greatest ally relents. It was so in this instance, when the Arapahoes outguessed both the Cheyennes and Jupiter Pluvius, and the drouth was ended, not only in Oklahoma, but in other Middle Western regions, where there wasn't an Indian rain wizard in miles.

> Mayor LaGuardia of New York proposes municipal lotteries to raise relief money. That will probably shock Tammany, which never left anything to chance.

TOO MANY LAWS.

Viewing the bulky statute books of America, both Sederal and state, one might paraphrase the Preach er of Ecclesiastes and say: "Of making many laws there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh." Such, at least, is the situation found by the Administrative Law Committee of the American Bar Association in its study of New Deal legislation Its report, to be presented to the annual convention of the association next week, says that the total out put since March, 1933, "probably exceeds the volume of all Federal statutes since 1789."

This tremendous mass production of laws is by no means a monopoly of New Deal legislators. All the states have a constantly growing volume of laws whose comprehension is to be attained only by study that is "a weariness of the flesh." The Federal statutes, too, have been burdened by a mass of complications, as in income tax, tariff and immigration legislation, that leads to endless misunderstanding and litigation.

Both supporters and critics of the recovery legislation have noted with misgivings the vast volume it has attained. A work of revision and simplification of its forms seems highly in order. In the expected effort to rationalise the NRA set-up, elimina tion of much involved and confusing matter should be on the agenda.

Forty-eight hours of labor weekly for Al Capone at Alcatras Island? Shocking! Haven't these Federal prison people heard of codes?

MRS. OWEN SETS A PRECEDENT.

President Roosevelt set a precedent when he ap pointed Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan, Minister to Denmark, and she in turn has done some precedent-setting herself. Just now, she is engaged in a trip through the Danish colonies, the first tour of its kind ever made by an American Minister. Why none of her predeces sors undertook such a trip is not clear, for now that Mrs. Owen is so engaged, it seems an obvious and Senator Long continues to espouse the interest of the common people, he will lead them to their legal rights, and the political grave mentioned will be the resting place of his political enemies.

Mrs. Owen is so engaged, it seems an obvious and proper thing to do. What Mrs. Owen has in mind can be understood from the fact that she is not on her own, being feted here and there as a distinguished visitor, but is a member of the party of the proper thing to do. What Mrs. Owen has in mind can be understood from the fact that she is not on guished visitor, but is a member of the party of the Director of Administration of Greenland, J. Daugaard Jensen, who each year inspects the Danish colonies of the North Atlantic.

> the lives they live, their agricultural methods, their recreational programs, their adult education, which has reduced illiteracy in Denmark to a lower percentage than in any other country in the world-and it has won her a sure place in the hearts of King Christian's subjects. If Mrs. Owen is to use her vacation in the United States to tell Americans about the Danes of today, as is reported, well and good, for it will be to our advantage to learn more of their simple yet cultured lives.

THE THOMAS SUIT.

The damage suit filed by Norman Thomas in the Federal Court at Springfield, Ill., is charged with a public interest that transcends individual grievance. Mr. Thomas was refused permission to speak at Taylorville, Ill., last May. He was accompanied by the Rev. Douglas B. Anderson, Socialist candidate for Congress, whose election he was prepared to advo cate. The scheduled meeting, on the courthouse lawn, was not held. It was broken up by tear bombs Mr. Thomas was arrested and subjected, he says, to a humiliating experience, the details of which are cited in his petition. The defendants in the suit are a deputy sheriff and a coal company, by which, it is alleged, the deputy sheriff was hired and paid.

As to the guilt of the defendants, or any of the circumstances in the complaint, we of necessity have no opinion. But there can be no question that the right of free speech and assemblage, as guaranteed by the Constitution, was suspended on this occasion. Of that act of officious lawlessness, somebody is guilty. and it is important that his identity be established

Mr. Thomas is a citizen of consequence. He is the Socialist party's candidate for President, having in herited that estate, so to speak, from Eugene V. Debs. Colleges invite him to preach their baccalaureates. Cities everywhere welcome him as a distinguished guest. He wants to right all the economic wrongs of the world. He knows how to do it. He is cocksure about it, though in a genteel, scholarly way. What his plan is, we have never quite been able to understand. His directions to Utopia leave us dazed, but not uncomfortable. If there is no "kick" for us in the Thomas prescription, there is no hangover either.

Mr. Thomas has properly sought redress in the law. Justice will be done him.

Meantime, a volunteer agency has appeared selfcommissioned to safeguard the Constitution. It is a blue-ribbon organization, the American Liberty League, Illustrious names among its sponsors: John W. Davis, Alfred E. Smith, James W. Wadsworth Irenee du Pont and Jouett Shouse, dynamo and D'Artagnan of Kansas.

These defenders of the faith might get off to a good start, we think, by planting their standard on the battlements of Taylorville, Ill.

ARCHEOLOGICAL WHEAT.

Grain grown from allegedly centuries old seed found in an ancient tomb, again is in the news, and we may expect another controversy on the subject. This time it is an Englishman, Col. Claibborn, who 5000-year-old tomb in India. All the seed germinated he said. And experts from the British Department of Agriculture and Cambridge University are report ed to be "satisfied the wheat came from the tomb."

Probably the first thing skeptical scientists will point out is that the Colonel's wheat may have come from the tomb without being 50 centuries old, or even a major fraction thereof. Many ancient mausoleums, as in Egypt, are used by the present generation as convenient storage places for grain. Says Sir E. A. Wallace Budge of the British Museum:

"Native guides have found tourists will buy 'mum my' wheat, and they keep supplies in the tombs carefully hidden, which they dig up under the eyes of the astonished visitor" and offer for sale.

From past studies scientists are extremely sken tical of alleged long-lived seeds. An article in the Kew Bulletin last year awarded the palm for longevity to some water lily seed dug up in Manchuria and thought to be from 120 to 400 years old, which grew when planted. Seed found in a nineteenth dynasty Egyptian tomb was tested 30 years ago by British botanists: it turned to dust after three months. Flinders Petrie planted grain found in excavating relics of the Greco-Roman period, and none germinated. Botanists assert that cereal seed germi live no more than 18 or 19 years.

Scientists may classify "mummy" wheat as a fraud or a myth, but it is a legend that dies hard.

BY RAIL ACROSS THE SAHARA.

From Paris to the heart of Africa in five daysthat is the railway schedule French engineers dream of as they draft their plans for the trans-Saharan railroad. The long-projected line, now reported to be approaching reality, would run through French territory for 1800 miles, from Oran, on the Algerian coast, across the great sandy waste, to the Niger River, where it would join a new line to the Gulf of Guinea. Construction would be easy, the engineers say, since the country is flat: unkeen would be light. and the cost, $200,000,000, would be earned in 60

Without a railroad, Henry M. Stanley declared, the Congo would not be worth a penny. Development of this rich region is the purpose of the enterprise. The Niger Valley offers great opportunities for trade and colonization, the French say, and they hope to develop a colonial empire there when the eight-year task of railroad-building is completed.

Depression has not killed the spirit of progress when such a vast scheme can be undertaken. And there are still regions, such as those to be opened up by this line, that await the pioneer and the commercial agent.

A Detroit girl who disappeared was found work ing in a hamburger shop. Did she have the good luck to meet Mr. Wimpy?

AS TO TAX BILLS.

In order to permit citizens to obtain discounts by paying taxes in advance, so they may obtain full advantage of a new law, city officials are working hard to have annual tax bills ready early in October. If oxcart methods were not employed in the As-essor's office, the bills could easily be made ready long before October. An item of $40,000 was inserted in the last budget for the purchase of billing machines, such as all modern corporations use, but the men removed it.

This is in keeping with the reports which have come from Copenhagan concerning Mrs. Owen's 15 throw men out of work, ignoring the fact that armonths of diplomatic service at the Danish capital. Her chief interest has been the Danes themselves— those displaced by the machines. Their argument was that they did not want to

A Look Into America's Future

Emergency expenditures and concentrated authority, though necessary 18 months ago to avert disaster, cannot go on indefinitely, St. Louis business man says; thinks undue pessimism has succeeded undue optimism of boom era; with sound government and sound currency, business now can safely take initiative, he asserts.

he Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

FTER five years of depression, we should now be able to understand fairly well its fundamental causes. If we car do this, it should be less difficult for us to understand the why and the wherefore of the various recovery and reconstruction tion. If the American public will endeavor to do this, it will regain a greater confidence in the fundamental soundness of our great country, which is essential if private mitiative is to take hold and maintain the impe tus for recovery initiated by the Federal

This artifical stimulation on the part of the Government was unavoidable 18 months ago, when business, banking, industrial and private initiative was dormant and the whole country was in a state of paralysis. Obviously, emergency expenditures on the part of the Government running into the billions cannot continue indefinitely; nor is it reasonable to suppose that the authority regimented by the Government will be of long duration, although it is necessary at this time in order to maintain the essential supervision over the diversified activities at Washington during this emergency period.

On the other hand, it is just as obvious that, if the Government had not made available its resources a year and a half ago, plete collapse. Such emergency action is very properly the responsibility and function of a strong government.

The Great War threw out of adjustment the relationship of the individual nations of the entire world. In this country, an unsound prosperity, with the orgies and ex-cesses of such an unprecedented boom, cre-ated artificial values which were the basis of all kinds of ridiculous speculations and financing. Squeezing the water out was a most painful process, and its hurt affected the entire nation, collectively and individ ually. Such a process naturally broke down confidence and initiative.

However, just as no one seemed to recognize the extravagant values placed upor all things in 1929, thinking that prosperity was nize the extravagant values placed upor all things in 1929, thinking that prosperity was infinite, today the reverse seems to be the case. The country still does not realize that a great depression cannot last indefinitely, and that when improvement comes, and it is already in evidence, it will thrive upon five years of deprivation and extreme economies, which have left a gap through which improvement will be accelerated in the filling. It has seemed essential that, in effecting recovery, the Government must at the same time lay a better foundation through reconstruction of our social, industrial, banking and economic shortcomings in order to prevent a recurrence of the severity of the present depression at some future time. These measures have undoubtedly slowed up recovery, for the pendulum of reconstruction swung possibly too far, a natural consequence of the excesses of the unbridled prosperity which came before. A more proper balance now seems to have been acquired, and the fears and apprehensions caused by the initial reconstruction measures somewhat allayed.

Credit and currency are being expanded: credit through the Government policy of examples.

Credit and currency are being expanded: edit through the Government policy of ex-nding aid to the railroads, industry, farming, banking, etc., and currency through devaluation of the dollar and the new silver legislation. These acts mean cheaper money and higher prices, and must be borne in mind in formulating plans for the future.

To what extent such a program will result in inflation is difficult, if not impossible, to calculate. I believe however it is safe to assume there will be no orgy of inflation such as has been seen in recent years in France and Germany, for the advocates of greenbacks are disappearing, and, as long as there is a metal base behind our currency, even it that base is increased or devalued in its relationship to currency in circulation, expansion of the currency can be controlled. Furthermore, the reasons which existed in those foreign countries, and which led to great inflation, do not exist here. When the investing public understands these facts, it will no lenger withhold investing idle funds in long-term fixed-return investing ments, essential for the rehabilitation of industry and business.

Francis M. Law, president of the American Bankers' Association, recently stated that banks are now ready to lend money to safe risks, but that there has been little de-mand for loans by business and industry, which still seem fearful of embarking on hew ventures. This is a normal consequence of the excessive degree to which enterprise and the individual went into debt prior to 1929, hypothecating assets and resources far beyond sound anticipation of future possibilities. These debts are fast being liquids ed, by one means or another, leaving a clear structure on which to build answ a prosper-ity less spectacular, but more lasting.

Economists maintain that if only 10 per cent of our production is exported to foreign countries, our surplus production would be used up. This would mean much inbe used up. This would mean much increased employment, higher prices and a definite impetus to a return of full prosperity. While some presume that America can follow a strictly nationalistic policy, nothing will tend to utilize the surplus production of our farms and benefit our great agricultural population more than demand by foreign countries for the products of our soil.

I believe that the condition of our farmers is still one of the most serious problems facing the Government today, and it is very questionable as to how successful the arbitrary limitation of crops will be. What effect the recent drouth will have is difficult to predict.

Unfortunately, Europe and the Far East are still in a state of uncertainty and ferment. Fear of war and the jealousies of nations are still preventing free international intercourse and are burdening these countries with excessive debts, which act as a barrier to commercial activity and trade prospority. The German difficulties have, of course, contributed greatly to this situation, and it is to be hoped that the powers that be in Germany may modify their methods and viewpoints, in order that the world antagonism that they have aroused may be tempered.

as and view, intagonism that they have intagonism that they have impered.

The American people will be burdened with high taxes for some years, in order that Federal, state and municipal governments may liquidate their debts. The Federal Government is dependent, to a great extent, profile for its revenue; therefore, the frequently expressed fear for the continuance of the profit system is unfounded. Furhermore, as long as men are constituted as they are, they will wish to own things and possess the luxuries of life. It is inherent for men to wish to make a profit from the labor of their lives.

foundation of our American stubility, is the fact that millions of our citizens are nome owners, and it is around the fires that the substantiality of our American life has been forged for over 150 years. The great housing program of the administration, through which some $800,000,000 has made available to encourage housing rehabilitation, and the extensive slum clearance program in contemplation, will tend to strengthen this fundamental pillar of our past progress and prosperity.

Even if some legislation may be termed socialistic, we should not shudder, but rather ndeavor to analyze, in the broad sense, what the word signifies. Socialists differ widely on the meaning of Socialism, except in that the fundamental dogma of Socialism is that, through Government regulation (not Government ownership), the profits of labor may be more adequately distributed, resulting in a fuller life for all. This is surely not an unsound philosophy and should tend not only to strengthen the capitalistic system, but also temper both the extremes of any future prosperity or future depression.

Autocracy and other forms of dictatorship, as we see them today, have thrived only in countries where the people have been sub-ject to autocratic rule for generations and do not know the true meaning of freedom and democracy. Allocation of wide authority to the administrative head of our Gov ernment in the emergency, by act of Con-gress, whereby, through centralized control, quick action could be taken, was an entirely different thing and does not justify labaloo that the American people today are giving up their liberty and constitutional rights; on the contrary, it is fortunate that our Constitution is flexible enough to permit such action in times of war or other emer-

The progress and future prosperity of any The progress and future prosperity of any nation are dependent, not only upon its national resources, but upon a government which enables its people to enjoy the benefits of the wealth of the nation. Assuming that this is so, Americans have every reason to face the future with optimism. Our gold supply, representing a great percentage of all the gold in the world, is the backbone of a scund currency system and a strong Government credit. A contented people speaks well for the form of government under which America has prospered for 150 years.

The patience of our population during five years of the greatest depression of modern times, under conditions of dire want and deprivation, is ample demonstration and proof of the confidence of the American people in their Government. At the same time, freedom of speech and press gives opportunity to the people to correct abuses that may arise, or still exist, in our governmental, industrial and economic systems. Barring rome unforeseen calamity, with the ingentity and resourcefulness of our people, I see a higher civilization and a greater contentment and a fuller life for all. I believe the time is here for private initiative to take hold and participate in the improvement that is on its way.

Success May Depend on your Food!

How fast you go ahead in the world, how much money you make, depends very largely on how wise you are about your choice of food.

If you are tired out by 11:30, if you're dull after lunch, if hot weather gets you, it's probably because you just haven't learned to eat the food that is best for you.

It's very simple, too. All you need to do is eat one meal a day of Shredded Wheat, milk, and fruit. This correct food combination will make almost any one more alert, full of pep, more effi-

In many districts old warrants, some of them dating back three and four years, will have a claim on available funds to further re-duce the amount which can be used to finance the school term.
Floyd said Federal aid will have to be made available in order to carry out the full term. The present outlook, Floyd said, is that the 12,080 white and Negro teachers in the State will be forced to accept salary reductions ranging from 5 to 10 per cent. In addition, he said, many districts soon will exhaust available funds and be forced to revive "subscription" schools as the only means of continuing the school term.

Under the "subscription" plan, which was used in some districts last year, students are required to pay tuition.

Here, dear friends, is a love story . . . strange, but real . . rather reversing the theory that women alone are capable of an undying love . . . for now we find a man possessed with an unbelieveable devotion to a worthless, unfaithful woman . . . a craving for her that was like a parasite in his heart . . . nourishing a hateful existence on his life's blood.

On and on he went . . . praying for a time when he would be delivered from this mad slavery . . . and it came . . . but not until the creature of ice he worshipped was the victim of her own mistakes.

What is this ghastly joke nature plays on men that makes them playthings of women who bleed them white, and pay for deep devotion with profound contempt? Let this great picture show you. Don't forget it is complete adult entertainment . . . not suited for children.

USUAL ROUTINE VARIED BY ARMENIAN DINNER

Interest Added to Home Cookery By Serving Occasional Meal of "Foreign Foods."

Most of us have a very decided interest in "foreign foods," if one may judge by the popularity of restaurants that specialize in the foods of other lands. Few housekeepers, however, realize the possi-bilities of inspiring interest in home cookery by occasionally serv-ing a dinner made up entirely of, say, Armenian dishes. While the dishes themselves taste quite different from the foods we are accustomed to, they generally contain the same ingredients—cooked and flavored in a different way. If you are tired of planning meals in the same old round, we recommend you try using recipes from other lands several times a month. It is pos-sible to buy cook books containing these recipes; perhaps some of your friends have collections of recipes from "the old country" which they will be more than willing to pass on to you; many libraries have a collection which you and other publications occasionally contain foreign recipes.

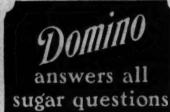

it was the sight of these beautiful purple globes that suggested an Armenian dinner where the main course would be a dish of eggplant lamb and tomatoes. In Armenian cookery these foods play a large part. In fact lamb is about the only meat used, and the ways they have devised for cooking it are many and, for the most part de-lightful. Some of the Armenian dishes may be somewhat greasy for our taste, but there are many that you will like. The eggplant mix-ture just mentioned requires a good sized eggplant, four to six firm ripe tomatoes, three onions, three tablespoons olive oil, three to four cups lamb cut in slices or dice. have suggested using up the emains of Sunday's roast in this way, but raw lamb-shoulder or inexpensive cut-may be used

Eggplants are fine just now, and Eggplant, Lamb and Tomatoes. Peel the eggplant and cut across in slices a scant quarter inch thick. Pile on top of each other, cover with a plate and let stand for 30 minutes with a heavy weight, such as an iron, on top of the plate. Drain off the juice, sprinkle the eggplant with flour and fry quickly in hot fat. Drain on soft paper. Place a layer of fried eggplant in casserole, cover with a thick ayer of meat cut in slices or cubes, sprinkle with chopped onion, salt another layer of eggplant and re-peat until all the ingredients are used. Pour one-half cup gravy or stock over the mixture and bake in moderate oven for 50 minutes if cooked meat is used; one and onehalf hours if raw meat is used. Serve with flaky, boiled rice. This makes a satisfying and complete meal all in one dish, as it combines meat, vegetables and starch food.

OUTWIT YOUR ALARM CLOCK WITH BREAKFAST MENU PLANNED DAY BEFORE

DING-a-LING-G-G-S! You've guessed it. It's the alarm clock with its tiresome clock with its tiresome habit of morning performance. You can look it square in the face, rest and stretch and yawn for ten minutes or so longer, if you've made out your breakfast menu the day before. Plan something that is quick to prepare, but very delicious prepare, but very delicious.

Here is a menu that will give you that good-to-be-alive feeling:

Watermelon Cubes. Cereal with Cream. Grilled Country Ham. Yum Yum Muffins.

Yum Yum Muffins. Break stale bread into enough small pieces to fill two cups; soak for ten minutes in one and one-fourth cups of hot diluted evaporated milk. Add two well-beaten eggs. Add the following sifted dry ingredients: One cup flour, two and one-half tea-spoons baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon salt and four tablespoons sugar. Then add two tablespoons of melted but-ter. Pour into well-greased muffin tins and drop a bit of firm jelly in the center of each. Bake in hot oven for about 25 minutes. Makes 12 muffins. If you prefer these muffins plain, just omit the jelly and serve them hot with honey or pre-preferably one that is crisp to offer the necessary contrast to the rather soft character of the rest of the meal. Cucumbers, radishes and celery, for example or raw cabbage, or a mixed raw vegetable salad, or even a mixture of crisp salad greens served very cold with a gar-lic dressing.

Desserts Rich and Sweet.

Armenians are very fond of sweets and most of their desserts are rich and very sweet. An orange compote is a favorite. Fresh apricots or peaches may be cooked in the same way, leaving the fruit whole and selecting fruit that is firm and not too ripe. Allow a small seedless orange for each serving. Peel, removing all yellow rind in thin strips, then trimming off all the white rind down to the pulp. Cut the yellow rind in the thinnest possible slivers. Blanch one-half cup almonds and cut in strips. Put the shredded yellow peel of two oranges in a small sauce pan, cover with cold water and let boil for three minutes, then drain. Repeat the process and then add the cooked rind to two cups sugar and one cup water. Boil slowly to make a thick syrup, dip the oranges 'n and pepper. Cover the meat with the boiling syrup, let stand one min-a layer of sliced tomatoes, then add strips all over the oranges. Place in serving dishes, pour the syrup around them and serve cold. If peaches or apricots are used, cook the peel of half a lemon in the sugar syrup. Peel the fruit and cook one minute in the boiling syrup, stick full of almonds and serve as above.

WITH CRUSHED FRUIT

"Will you please print a recipe for pancakes that are suitable to serve for dessert, and also tell what to serve with them—would it be a sauce?" a reader asks. "I want a riddle or a heavy frying pan at camp, where there is no oven suitable for baking."

Use this recipe and vary it by serving the pancakes spread with jelly one time, another time with crushed, sweetened berries, or with the sauce for which the recipe is given below. French Pancakes.

Beat two eggs until light and add two cups milk. Sift two and onefourth cups cake flour with one-half teaspoon salt, one and one-half teaspoons baking powder and two tablespoons sugar. Add the egg-milk mixture and mix to a smooth, thin batter. Stir in one-half cup melted butter or margarine and cook on a greased grid-dle in pancakes as large as a small dle in pancakes as large as a small saucer. Spread with jam, jelly, fruit or sauce and pile one on top of the other. A good sauce is made by creaming one-third cup butter and one and one-half cups powdered sugar together, working in three tablespoons fruit juice or crushed fresh or canned fruit. The pancake recipe serves six to eight.

REDUCING DIET

If you are really interested in reducing weight harmlessly, and in spite of the return of curves, there are still many who are, bear in mind, that the best method of domind, that the best method of doing it is by regulating the amount of food you eat—not by patent cures or quack diets. Eat your regular diet, but eat smaller amounts of the fat-forming foods, such as fats, sugar, especially candy, rich desserts and pastries and cakes. These, in fact, should be cut down almost to the vanishing point. Gereals may be used lightly. cut down almost to the vanishing point. Cereals may be used lightly, oven-dried bread, "melba toast," should take the place of hot rolls; green vegetables seasoned with very little butter should be used moderately, as well as fruits, lean meat, fish, cheese and eggs. Eat only at regular meal times and stick to small servings. Exercise helps in reducing, especially when used regularly. Never use drugs or mediFriday and Saturday-August 24th and 25th

You may prefer to can the tomatoes and "make" the juice when you open the can, by straining out the seed; or you may like ing out the seed; or you may like to can the juice in the first place. You get a good product either way, and tomatoes and tomato juice, home-canned or factory canned, are among the most economical foods you can put on your pantry shelves, especially valuable in winter.

Tomatoes are valuable for many reasons, but the reason with which the tomatoes to be whole in the we are concerned at the moment is cans, you will have to use the cold-different kinds, as well as tomatoes. But it does not stay with you as other vitamins do. Relatively little is stored up in the body to be used as needed. Therefore, you must have a continuous supply, and this becomes more difficult when fresh fruits and vegetables are out of season.

Tomatoes Retain Vitamin C.
That is where tomatoes come in so nicely. Most foods lose more or less of their vitamin C when they are cooked or canned, for this vitamin is usually destroyed by heat, especially heat in the presence of air. Not so tomatoes, however—or rather, not so much so. The acidity of the tomato prevents for the most part the loss of vitamin C, which occurs in the non-acid foods when cooked. And tomatoes, either as tomatoes or juice, are a cheap enough food to be relied on as a regular part of the diet all the year.

JELLIED CHICKEN SALAD

Put one package of lemon-flavored, prepared gelatin in a bowl and add one and one-half cups boiling water and one-fourth cup vine-gar. Stir until dissolved, then let cool. Mix together one cup sliced, cooked chicken, one cup sliced celery, two tablespoons chopped stuffed clives with salt and pepper to season. Peel and slice one hardboiled egg. When the gelatin with the cold, pour a "le in individual molds to cover the bottom of the mold. Chill, place a slice of hard-boiled egg on the stiffened gelatin, fill the mold with the chicken, packing it in lightly, and then pour in the gelatin to fill the molds or to cover the chicken. Set aside to chill and harden. Turn out on lettuce and garnish with mayonnaise. Makes six small molds.

What to have for dessert is a oblem that confronts all housekeepers. Perhaps the problem is not quite so difficult in the summer when fresh fruit in such variety is available, but there are times when plain fruit palls and when many of the cooked desserts seem impractical. In such cases the big group of gelatine desserts offer a convenient solution. They are quickly made, wholesome, inexpen-sive, sweet enough to be satisfying but not cloying, and are generally well liked. And there is no end to the variety, whether you prefer those made from the sweetened and flavored gelatine powders, or the plain gelatine to which you add our own flavoring. The following suggestions are a very few of the great number that may be quickly made. Most of the may be quickly made. Most of the gelatine manufacturers have published recipe booklets if you are interested in pursuing the subject any further and will be glad to send them to you. Look over the advertisements in your favorite magazines and papers and make a collection of dessert recipes—it's of the deadly rut of monotony in Most gelatine desserts are im-proved in flavor by serving them with whipped cream, a thin cus-tard sauce or some combination sauce made from cream and fruit juice or pulp. Scalded, chilled evap-orated milk may be whipped like cream and will hold up well if a small amount of gelatine is added to it. This and custard sauce are generally a little cheaper than whipped cream. Fruit Surprise.

Fruit Surprise is especially attractive. Cut the tops off six small cup cakes, allowing one cake per serving. Remove about half the Or use individual cakes that are baked with a hollow that can be filled with fruit, etc. Dissolve half a package of cherry flavored gelatine according to directions on package and cool until it begins to thicken. ## GOOD STEAK FEAST IN ANY SEASON

Meat Most Importto Ultimate Success.

Steak is a delight to the appetit and an appeal to the eye in any Carefully broiled or pan broiled and served with any number of sauces or garnishes, it makes not just a meal but a feast.

Choosing the steak is most important to its ultimate success. Cuts from the loin of beef, either porterhouse, T-bone or sirloin are the per fect choice. The porterhouse will serve 2 people liberally if cut med-ium thick, and a sirloin steak will serve 5 or 6 depending on the hus-kiness of appetites. A cut of top round, if it comes from a well fat-tened animal and has nice islands of fat throughout the lean, will also broil. Allow ¼ to 1-2 lb. of round

Any steak should have a good supply of fat of its own, not just an outside fat layer but fat well distributed throughout the red muscle. Have your butcher leave all the fat on the cut you buy— it is delicious in flavor for itself provides real juiciness in the

For broiling, turn the oven regulator to 450 or 500 degrees F., and let heat for 10 to 15 minutes. Place the broiler rack about 4 niches below the flame or so that the top of the meat is about 3 inches below the fire. A 1-inch steak will require 12 to 15 minutes of cooking altogether. Thinner steaks requir 7 to 10 minutes and 2-inch steaks will require 25 to 30 minutes. These latter are almost small roasts. Pan Broiling Method.

Some people think of the broiler as inconvenient because of its unwieldy size in washing dishes. They may prefer to do their broiling in a pan. Pan broiling is a good meth-od, too. Heat a good heavy skillet smoking hot, rub it quickly with a piece of suet and put in the steak. The rest of the process is just like oven broiling—except that the meat must be watched a little closer to

STOCK MARKET BASIS HIGHER

Flurries Are Generally of Brief Duration but Gains of Fractions to Around a Point Predominate in Several Groups.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Mild rallying tendencies prevailed on the Stock Market today. Flurries were generally of brief duration but gains of fractions to around a point predominated among steels, rails, packing shares and others late. The late tone was firm. U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Wilson Packing A, United Fruit and New York Central rose a point or so each. Transfers were expected to approximate 570,000 shares. 000 shares.

Activity in both stocks and bonds was at a low ebb in trading period up to early afternoon. But price changes were noticeably narrow in many categories. New developments were not of a character to generate

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM CHANGES FOR THE WEEK

By the Associated Frees.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—An $84,000 rise in industrial loans by Federal Reserve Banks was shown in their condition statement for the week ending Aug. 22.

In that week, their total loans of that loans were $295,000, against $214,000 the in brokers' loans, which fell to $11,000,000 to $810,000,000.

The extent of wholesale commodity price appreciation last month was disclosed in the July index of the Bureau of Labor statistics. It increased three-tenths of 1 per cent to 74.8, the highest since April, 1931.

Continued weakness in the British pound abroad centered attention upon the foreign exchange market.

The price of gold in the London epen market rose sharply.

The British pound opened here at $5.07, off 1½ cents. The franc was $2.000,000, compared with the preceding week and an increase of $221,000,000.

SMALL CHANGES SHOWN BY COTTON AT MIDDAY

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS EXCHANGE,
Aug. 24.—Following are today's high, low, close and previous close is local markets and quotations received from other mar-

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 3 to 7 lower on reports or rain in Western Texas and disappointing Liverpool cables.

October opened 13.21c; Dec. 13.36c; July, 13.67c.

Trading was comparatively quiet at...at opening. Scattered offerings on the relatively easy showing of Liverpool and reports of further rains in the West were absorbed on the early decline to 13.33 for December, or about 5 to 8 points below yesterday's finals.

Conflicting as to whether the rains absorbed on the early decline to 13.33 for December, or about 5 to 8 points below yesterday's finals.

Conflicting as to whether the rains had come in time materially to help the crop and nervousness over the labor situation in the textile industry, tended to restrict trading.

A Liverpool cable said there were comparatively few offerings in that market despite the Texas rains reports, as the Washington loan policy was expected to sustain prices around current levels.

A little Southern selling was reported here during the morning but the offerings were not heavy enough to make much impression on the market and prices held generally steady on a moderate demand. The buying was attributed to covering and trade interests and was said to include some price fixing possibly by mills against recent sales of cotton goods for relief purposes. At midday December was ruling around 13.39c and May 13.63c or 1 point higher to 2 points lower.

23.75a 23.50b-24.00a †22.50 23.40 22.55 23.15b-23.55a 23.00

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24. — Distinct apathy characterized the grain market today and a singgish trade caused wheat prices to fluctuate narrowly about the previous day's closing quotations. An initial price improvement in wheat was followed by reactions of about a cent. At the close, however, wheat showed fractional gains all around.

Frost in Canadian regions and in the Dakotas caused little anxiety. Liverpool's strength was an early buoyant factor as was the slight upturn at Kansas City, but the British market weakened later. Corn showed stubborn resistance to pressure and averaged higher. Showing a net gain of about a cent.

Little attention was paid a Washington report the 1935 wheat production control program would call for a cut below normal in acreage sown of 10 per cent instead of 15 per cent as was the case this year. The only comment was an assertion Washington officials were ignoring the fact that wheat production had been below normal for two consecutive years.

Wheat futures purchases yesterday totaled 22,912,000 bushels, corn 11,192,000,00 pen interest in wheat was 160,022,000 bushels and in corn 86,762,000.

Grain prices steadled early today as fresh reports of frost in the Canadian Northwest were received. Liverpool's firmness also hd a strengthening effect here. Opening ¼ down to ¼ up. December new 1,04-0444, wheat soon afterward held near the initial range. Corn started unchanged to % up. December 77¼ 678, and soon changed little.

The market clung to its early range during the first hour. Wheat reached a high a major fraction above yesterday's close. The early top for the September delivery was 1,04, but buying was not broad enough to prevent recessions on profit sales.

Trade was unsettled to some extent by sharp changes in foreign rates.

A leading authority pointed out that consistent strength in a consumers' market such as Liverpool can mean but one thing —concern over available supplies. It was said that curtailment of interest here was GRAY SHORTS.

while each of the 15 leading cars and 8 chief truck markets showed substantial gains.

The total number of passenger cars exported was 78,636 units, valued at $43,-225,215, during the first half of this year, as compared with 33,368 units, valued at $16,160,170 during the opening half-year of 1933. Motor trucks and busses totaled 49,703 units, valued at $23,110,727, as against 16,219 units, valued at $23,110,727, as against 16,219 units, valued at $7,186,177 in the first six months of last year.

The chief purchasers of American passenger cars during the 1934 period were the union of South Africa, Belgium, Sweden, Australia and Japan, while Japan, Belgium, British India, Spain and the Union of South Africa occupied the same relative position with reference to trucks and busses.

Each of the eight principal truck markets, as well as the 15 chief countries of destination for passenger cars, with the exception of Argentina, the Philippine Islands and Switzerland, accounted for purchases which were more than double the values reported during the first half of 1933.

The average export valuation for passenger cars and trucks during the Janayar-June period of 1934, was $549 and $465, as compared with $484 and $443, respectively, in the corresponding months of 1933.

Subded under the miscellaneous heading.

CURB SLIGHTLY HIGHER IN THE EARLY SESSION

By the Associated Frees.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Prices on the Curb Exchange continued to work slightly higher early today. The volume of trading, however, lapsed back into the extremely small turnover which has persisted with few exceptions, for several months. Other than a flurry of activity right after the opening, the ticker was idle for minutes at a time-between transactions. Utilities again were spotty, although the losses or gains were confined to minor fractions in most cases compared with the wider range of the past two sessions when these issues advanced sharply only to turn dull and lost most of the advantage.

CWA CENSUS SHOWS GAIN IN EMPLOYMENT

22,000 Rise in Trade and Amusement Enterprises in Missouri in 1933.

The number of full-time employes in wholesale and retail trade and in Missouri rose from 143,003 in February last year to 165,525 in December, it is shown in the census of American business made public yesterday. The number of parttime employes in these lines in-creased from 69,241 in February, 1933, to 93,457 in December. CWA workers made the census early this year under direction of the Federal Census Bureau. In Illinois the increase last year was from 293,360 full-time employes in January and 69,241 part-time employes in February, to 347,754 full-time workers and 93,457 part-time in December. For the nation, there were 4,874,659 persons engaged in these lines that February and 5,838,182 in December. Clyde Mil-ler, acting district manager of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, interpreted this as a sign of business improvement.

Figures for the Nation.

The December figure for the nation included 4,575,462 full-time workers and 1,262,720 part-time, and, in addition, there were 2,161,-000 proprietors or partners in the businesses. Miller said wholesale and retail trade and service and ement enterprises furnished one-fifth of the nation's employment one-fifth of the nation's employment last year. The year's epayroll was $5,106,261,000, exclusive of compensation of proprietors and partners. Job Insurance Also but Doubts It Is Enough.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 24. - Relief Administrator Hopkins, return-ing from a six weeks' study of Europeans relief methods, today elaborated views expressed in New York. He said he had come re-luctantly to the belief that "we have got to have a cash benefit somewhere in the picture for perons thrown involuntarily out of Hopkins said he was convinced that unemployment insurance must be fitted into the New Deal. He predicted revival of the Wagner-Lewis bill introduced in the last Congress, which would levy a 5 per cent tax on payrolls to be turned into an insurance fund.

Administrator Hopkins said he had brought back from Europe four or five definite ideas which would lay before President Roose velt tomorrow. He would not dis

The indicated that work relief projects would be hastened with the approach of cold weather but that the civil works program would not be used again.

Hopkins said it was doubtful if an unemployment insurance system could be evolved that would not go could be evolved that would not go bankrupt in a depression as great as the present one. In such an emergency, he said, it would be necessary to go outside the insurance fund for payments, as has been done in Europe.

"It is unthinkable," he said, "that you could set up a fund to guard 15,000,000 people against unemployment."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The highest level of wholesale food prices since August, 1931, was reported today by the Labor Department for the week ended Aug. 18.

For the same amount of food the retailer had to pay $1 for in 1926, he had to pay 74 cents lact week.

The department's index for the week was 2.5 per cent above that for the corresponding week last year. Wholesale commodity prices in general rose to 76.1 per cent of the 1926 average, an increase of 0.9 per cent over the previous week. The farm products group also reached a new high for the year. The index for the week was 8.9, compared with bits a year ago and 49.8 two years ago.

AIR CRASH IN WHICH SEVEN DIED LAID TO NEGLIGENCE

Coroner's Report Holds Pilot to Blame for Accident June 9 in the Catakill Mountains.

by the Associated Press.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Aug. 24.—District Attorney Cleon B. Murray announced today he had received a Coroner's report attributing the crash of the air liner on Last Chance Mountain June 9 to negligence in operating the plane over dangerous country. Seven persons were killed in the crash.

Concerning speculation as to whether chemicals carried by William Bader of Buffalo, one of the passengers, caused the crash, Murray said the report made this find-ing: "Evidenc at the inquest shows no bas for belief, in the theory of asphyxiation of the occupants prior to the crash, or in an explosion prior to the crash." The liner, flying from New York to Buffalo with two pilots, four passengers and a stewardess, dropped from sight on a Sunday afternoon. Two days later the charred bodies of the occupants were found in wreckage at the top of a Catskill Mountain peak. Clyde Holbrook and Don Barrow were the pilots. Murray said it was not known which one was at the con-

Four allegations were: The plane was flying less than 500 feet higher at certain points, contrary to air traffic rules; the plane diverged "over 50 miles from the authorized route without good cause therefor; the plane was flyin, over dangerous terrain, mountainous country, and not keeping sufficient altitude; it no authority was given.

Down Goes the Pound. Comfort for Mr. Capone. Belief in God Protects.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.
(Copyright, 1934.)

UCH excitement, in Paris especially, about the sudden drop in British sterling as compared as French francs. The French believe that the British no longer mean to hold up the value of the pound, and fear that Britain and the United States will begin "a cheap money" competition, disastrous to those that remain proudly on the gold standard.

If United States and British moneys are cheap the world will buy from Britain and the United States, rather than from countries with dear money.

dear money.

This is further confirmation of the statement that nobody knows anything about money. The world can only guess, as events develop.

Mr. Al Capone, able in his line, is indignant, his lawyers almost weep, because Mr. Capone, in the dead of night, is transferred from the peaceful prison of Atlanta, Ga., to the rock prison of Atlanta, Ga., to the rock prison of Alcatraz Island where the Government keeps its "most desperate prisoners."

Mr. Capone, who says he has been "a model prisoner, as all his guards will testify." may be comforted by the suggestion that our Government sees in him some resemblance to Napoleon Bonaparte. Napoleon was a model prisoner on the Island of Elba, but did not stay there long, and, when he came back, made considerable trouble.

The British transferred him to Stellera, a rocky, distant island,

The British transferred him to Realcatraz, a rocky, distant island, like Alcatraz, only more so. And there Napoleon stayed until he died, his body coming back in triumph to be buried in Paris.

At Bridgeton, N. J., scene of un pleasant strikes, "Communist activi-ties" are investigated, Donald J. Henderson, formerly instructor at Columbia University, and his wife being witnesses.

When they admitted that they

When they admitted that they were communists the investigating lawyer asked each one "do you beleve in God?" Mrs. Henderson said the did not believe in a "personal" God. Her husband said "I do not believe in the God you do—but, I believe in God."

Defenders of property rights maintain that to believe in God is essential to good citizenship, but strange it doesn't matter what pricular God.

If Mrs. Henderson said "we believe in an African god called Mum-bo-Jumbo" or "we believe in Budd-ha," or "Allah, and his prophet Mo-hammed," or "we believe in being parsee," that would have been sat-isfactory.

And that is reasonable, easily understood, on the theory that if you believe in Mumbo-Jumbo or any other god, you probably believe age that you will go to hell if you that somebody else's property. If you don't believe in Mumbo-Jumbo, or Allah or Buddha, or some supernatural power, you may con-slude that there is no hell, in which case, as a matter of course, you would steal everything possible or even divide the property of the rich among the poor.

The Russian newspaper Izvestia warns Japan not to get into a "conflagration" for the sake of a small sum connected with Japan's proposed purchase of the Chinese Eastern Railway, owned by Russia. It is good advice.

But there are possibilities of "conflagration" along the Russian-Japanese border more serious than any bargaining for a railroad.

Giving Children a View Beyond the Horizon of Material Things.

THE following isn't literature. It is part of the homely scene of my daily life. As such, it may not interest you. If not, pass it up, pal, and call it a day. I've done it on a gamble—the chance that it may add a new door for some other little tike, as it has for small Jack and Charles, Louis and Sammy.

Bvery night, after they've listened of Amos 'n' Andy, "read a story," had a pillow fight and been mass-scrubbed, I tumble four little tads her bed. But he under 12. Nice breeding, nice homes, nice parents. But — you know how it is these days—there hasn't been much formal religion in their lives. Plenty of instruction in generosity, gameness, friendliness and honesty, but few of those spiritual rites which were part of every youngster's life 40 years ago. So the first night they were together the "thanks" didn't go over so well.

Gosh, what kind of _ goofy game was this—kneeling down, puttin' your hands together, talking to seme guy you couldn't see? Redfaced, twinkling, wriggling, they peered sheepishly at each other through spread fingers, snickered softly, broke into open giggles. I laughed, too.

Then we decided on a temporary adjournment, piled all together on "Cheeser's" bed, passed around an extra helping of lemon drops, and talked it over.

The giggles had stopped. The toes had stopped wiggling. Even the lemon drop swashings were subdued. Wide-eyed, they were gasing through a door they had never found before—at a Mystery they had never known existed.

Life, for them, was a twentieth century wonder of whirling wheels, roaring rails, glittering counters, generous moms and dads. So young, so eager, so willing to believe in miracles and marvels. Yet they had been given only a world of material wonders upon which to feed their clamoring imaginations. Store aisles to the north of them, store aisles to the east and west and the south of them. Beyond the horizon, nething!

And now it appeared that store sisles, and the other things one found in stores, were not all. There found in stores, were not all. There was a Guy ... a swell Guy whom you couldn't ever never see, but Who was always there on the job, Giving You Things. And it WASN'T a gooty game to thank a Guy like that. Sure you did it! swing of at least 1300 points."

Under his third point, I should like to note the following. If you make your doubtful slam and the opponents now win the rubber, you have saved 500 points—the exact value of the rubber premium. If you fail, you lose 200 points plus whatever set you took, as Lieutenant Hyatt says. Therefore, I believe that for a gambler, the slam is worth while, since you are a three-to-one shot to lose the rubber anyway. Otherwise, I agree with his comments.

I can cite an example of the following reason—the first side to become vulnerable is a three-to-one shot to win the rubber.

"Second. You are vulnerable, but the epponents are not. You are now a three-to-one shot to win the rubber, and the slam bonuses are attractively large. If you have any justification at all for the bid you should not go down more than two tricks with the worst luck, which idealed would be a penalty of only 500 points. Even in the event of the failure of the slam, you are still a three-to-one shot to win the rubber.

Proteins Are Important in Child's Diet

They Insure Tissue Growth -Minerals Are Found in Vegetables.

Logan Clendening, M.D.

P OR STEADY growth of the body during childhood is needed, a diet which will provide a nutritional reserve. Yesterday it was stated in this column that such a diet must include four things: (1) total energy, (2) protein, (3) proper minerals. (4) proper vitamins. minerals, (4) proper vitamins.

The total energy, as discussed yesterday, must be about three times that of the diet of adults and is made up of carbohydrates and fats—milk and sugar in infancy; and milk, sugar, fruit juices, eggs, butter, bread, cereals and cream in childhood.

The protein requirement for growth, according to Dr. I. N. Kugelmass, is four times the protein intake of adults. This is obviously true, because children are growing, adults are standing still (except perhaps requires fat cells). Growth of tissue requires the substance of which tissues are made—proteins, Children require at least one gram of protein per day per pound, but twice that is better for favorable growth.

In selecting protein for children it is extremely important not to be faddy. No vegetable contains all the necessary proteins for human well-being. Liver is a fine source of protein, so are milk, eggs, fish, chopped beef and steak, kidneys, bacon, cottage cheese, etc.

bacon, cottage cheese, etc.

For the minerals, however, the planner of the child's diet should go to the vegetables. There are go to the vegetables. There are only two necessary minerals which are likely to be insufficient in the average American dietary—calcium and iodine. Iron is obtained in spinach, oatmeal, prunes, bread, dates, beans and eggs. A good reserve is most important in safeguarding the health of feeble infants who have a tendency to anomic

nia. Calcium, the bone and tooth builder, the muscle toner, is found in cheese, milk, beans, cauliflower, in cheese, milk, beans, cauliflower, molasses, soy beans, eggs, carrots, bananas, figs and prunes.

Iodine is found in vegetables grown along the Atlantic coast and in the south, but is liable to be deficient in the vegetables of the Great Lakes region. It can be added to the diet, however, by using oysters, salmon, bananas, asparagus, grapes, tomatoes and carrots.

Vitamins in the modern diet are frequently removed by the processing of foods. That was more true of the processed foods of 20, and even ten, years ago than of today.

Only two vitamins need be carefully watched, however—Vitamin C, the absence of which causes infantile scurvy, and Vitamin D, the absence of which causes rickets. C can be added by giving fresh orange, lemon or tomato juice. Dican be aded by giving cod liver oil this soup stock is strained and all the bones removed, making room for more fresh bones. The housewife can make soup stock in the same way, although it is some trouble. A very simple way to handle this is to make chop suey a day or so after having chicken and use the broth from the chicken as a stock, cooking some other bones into it if desired."

An abundance of all the vitamins assures the proper assimilation of all foods, and hence steady growth. This plan of creating a nutritional reserve in the diet of childhood is of great importance. To change a child's diet so that instead an abundance, will cause tissue changes immediately. The blood shows changes within a week, the sired." An abundance of all the vitamina

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE.

HE train climbed through the green virgin forests of Oregon and crossed bubbling streams that tumble down from mountains. Its wheels hummed over bridges and roared through gorges. Through the open window of the engine cab came the tangy scent of fir and pine. But the engineer was used to that. He had been riding 96 for 20 years and the smell of fir and pine so longer interested him, if it ever had. What did interest him was that this train he was guiding carried a murderess.

"You say she's pretty?" he screamed to his fireman.
"Yeh, mighty pretty." The fireman had seen her get on, and the engineer hadn't. "Young, too. Looks kinds like your Sally."

all that was pleasant.

"No she can't!" Sally was the daughter of the pilot of 96, and Sally had never done anything wrong in her life. Sally was his pride. That she should be compared to Jennifer Hale even in looks was odious. His hand trembled on the throttle.

In the observation car a large middle-aged woman with a florid face tackled the conductor. "Is it true, conductor, that this train is carrying Jennifer Hale?" The shocked accents of her voice amused the conductor, but his face was im-perturbable as he answered in the affirmative.
"But, conductor"—— her face grew even more crimson.

"It's perfectly safe, don't worry."
The conductor had served murderers and murderesses before. They had to travel, didn't they? Always pretty good passengers at that, quieter than most, quieter than convention passengers.

"Are you sure she's guarded?" Two other women were leaning over listening intently to every reply of

"Oh, yes, two Los Angeles detectives with her, besides a matron of the Seattle Jail."

"Doesn't seem enough. She hasn't

No, madam; she's been thoroughly searched."

"Could we see her, do you suppose?" The woman's eyes bleamed.

The trip promised to be interesting. The conductor shook his head. He was getting tired of telling passengers they couldn't see Jennifer Hale. Most of them had asked if they could. Even his oldest charge, a man of 93 who had come aboard in a wheel chair, wanted to see Jennifer Hale.

"You've seen her?" eagerly.
"Yes, I've seen her." Then he went away, but the woman wasn't daunted. Resolutely she traveled through the cars until she came to At the door of drawing room
 A she paused. Inside this door was Jennifer Hale. Two other women joined her, and lingered in the corridor, their eyes on the door.

THE porter—our porter, too—"one-of them related awefully, "says she's real pretty, but I can't believe it. He says she isn't handcuffed, either, that she just sits on the seat and looks out the window. She didn't eat any breakfast Did you see the reporters that came on at Portland? Four of them. SYNOPSIS

JENNIFER HALE books passage to Seattle as MARY DIXON when she Jearss that the Los Angeles police suspect her of murdering DAVID-COREY. En route she meets KENT SEVERN, cales manager of the Severa Lumber Company, and tells him she is from Seattle, too, but is out of a job. Kent engerly offers her a position in his office, and Mary is glad to accept it.

Gradually Mary recovers from the hunted feeling, but is reluctant to accept Kent's invitations to dinner because she dobsn's want to involve him in her affairs. Hent overcomes her excuses, and proceeds to fall in love with her. Mary finally confesses that she loves him, but hesitates to tell him who she is.

MRS. SEVERN. bires ANDY YOUNG to check up on the girl's background, for she has other plans for Kent's marriage. Andy stumbles onto the discovery that Mary is really Jenniter Hale. The police are notified and immediately put her in juil. Horrified, the Severus accusingly blame Kent for bringing a murderess into their home. Mr. Severn threatens to cut Kent off in his will if he has anything more to do with the girl. Kent, though herildered by the sudden revelation, stoutly defends Jennifer and goes to see her immediately. The next day he asks his father's lawyer for the name of a criminal storney in Los Angeles, for Jennifer is being returned there at once. Tyron suggests NEIL HALLER.

The train stopped for a few minutes, and Jennifer missed the singing wheels and the motion that seemed to dull her brain.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.

It'S hard to tell, these days, whether a girl is dressed for the boudoir or the dance floor.

The "nightgown dress" is one of the newest wrinkles of fall fashions, and no doubt will be seen at our best-stay-up-late places this winter.

Its chief distinguishing characteristic is its simplicity and its extreme high-waisted line.

The nightgown dress may be of practically any material, from satin to metal-shot silk, but the softer fabrics are the more effective. It is belted under the bust, and the skirt hangs straight and unadorned

The Popular Balcony Scene

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

The higher the balcony the safer you are over there. If we did things like that over here all our speeches would be made from the top of Washington Monument.

Juliet, will stick to the balcony like a fish hawk to a tree. It makes a prettier picture and it's safer.

It was from the early European Dictators hanging out of the le and reviewing the troops.

WE now know how the leaning tower of Pisa got that way.

Bringing Up Father-By George McManus

(Copyright, 1934.)

The time has gone when any European leader is so foolish as to review his troops from hossback. Now he gets on stilts. The minute a man gets in power over there he wants to play Romeo and Juliet. And he wants to be Juliet. Let Romeo stay down there in the garden where he can get lowbridged by a builet.
